

Transfer of slave Ownership

Part A – Previous owner's declaration

I hereby rescind all ownership claims over the slave detailed in part c of this document and transfer any and all rights I hold regarding it to the person detailed in part B. I hereby declare that the slave's current hard limits are:

- No cutting or blood
- Nothing that could kill it or permanently maim it
- Nothing that will get it arrested or put its job at risk
- No animals or children
- Limited breath control and scat
- At all times, its family is to think of it as a regular person not involved in this lifestyle. As part of that it is allowed regular contact with its mum and limited contact with its sister.
- Nothing that will involve unwilling or unsuspecting members of the public.
- If photos, videos etc. are to be taken or the slave is to be displayed in public at events/clubs its anonymity must be protected (e.g., with a hood or mask).

Part B – New owner's declaration

I agree to take ownership of the slave detailed in part C of this document and understand that it is now my sole property. I will not cause permanent harm or death to the slave and will respect any hard limits documented by its previous master in part A. I agree to let the person in part C manage the dowry payment in line with the instructions of the person listed in part A.

Part C – Slave's declaration

I understand that I am no longer owned by the person detailed in part A of this document and am now owned by the person in part B. I understand that all rights over me have been transferred to my new owner. I agree to follow their orders, protocols and rules from now on and to serve them to the best of my ability. I understand that my lifestyle may change and that my new owner may treat me very differently from my last. I give consent in perpetuity for the person detailed in part B, or their representatives, to use me sexually in any way they see fit. I also give consent in perpetuity for the person detailed in Part B to punish me in ways including but not limited to corporal punishment and psychological punishment. I understand that these may leave marks on my body and be painful. I understand that all other consents agreed to with the person named in part A will transfer to the person named in part C. I understand that the person named in part C may further transfer all rights to further parties.
